

Scientific Staff Mobility 2018 transCampus-Exchange with TU Dresden

What's it about?

The transCampus initiative – the first of its kind in Europe - is a unique partnership between two of Europe's leading academic institutions, King's College London and Technische Universität Dresden. In the context of a joint grant on Diabetes and Depression, we offer financial support for long-term stays in Dresden.

Financial support will be available for time periods from 15 days up to 6 months.

Possible aims of a proposed stay abroad:

- development of new or continuation of ongoing projects in the field of diabetes and/or depression
- networking with facilities of our partner-university
- preparation of applications for third-party funds for joint projects

Who is eligible?

- Scientific staff focused on diabetes and/or depression research at King's College London

How much funding will I get?

EUR 89 per day for up to 22 days or
EUR 2000 per month to cover living expenses plus
EUR 125 once for travel costs

How to apply:

We are looking forward to your application till 22nd January 2018. Please submit your application with the following documents via e-mail to felix.klee@tu-dresden.de:

- Letter of motivation/project outline (short description of your current position, proposed outcomes, expected benefit from the stay, proposed schedule for the planned stay, previous connections to the visited facility and in case of ongoing projects specification of thesis)
- Declaration of consent signed by your Supervisor
- Letter of invitation of the corresponding partner at TU Dresden
